Certificate of RoHS Compliance

Dear Teledyne SSI Customer:

This letter is to certify that all Teledyne SSI (henceforth SSI) products are compliant with RoHS (Restriction of certain Hazardous Substances), including but not limited to pumps, pump kits, fluid path components, spare parts and any other items shipped from our State College, Pennsylvania facility on or after May 1, 2011. To the best of our knowledge, all of our products after that date meet the requirements of the RoHS Recast Directive or RoHS II, specifically EU Directive 2011/65/EU on the restriction of the use of certain hazardous substances in electrical and electronic equipment, and monitoring and control instruments, and comply with the requirements specified below:

General Requirements of Directive 2011/65/EU

- < 100 ppm (< 0.01% by weight) Cadmium (Cd) and Cadmium compounds*
- < 1000 ppm (< 0.10% by weight) Lead (Pb) and Lead compounds*
- < 1000 ppm (< 0.10% by weight) Mercury (Hg) and Mercury compounds*
- < 1000 ppm (< 0.10% by weight) Hexavalent Chromium (Cr-VI) compounds*
- < 1000 ppm (< 0.10% by weight) Polybrominated biphenyls (PBBs)*
- < 1000 ppm (< 0.10% by weight) Polybrominated diphenyl ethers (PBDEs), including DecaBDE, Penta BDE and OctaBDE*

If any additional information is needed, do not hesitate to contact us.

Sincerely,
